ALMA MATER

Fairest of all is our dear Mississippi
Rising in state as the crest of a hill;
Staunch as a rock is our dear Alma Mater,
Round her so noble our hopes ever live.
When in the future, our hearts may be yearning
For the bright scenes of our dear college youth,
Back to thy portals our memories turning,
Clear gleams thy beacon of virtue and truth.
M.C., we hail thee, our dear Mississippi,
Queen of our hearts, no foe shall alarm;
Faithful and loyal thy children will ever
Cherish thy mem'ry, acknowledge thy charm.

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

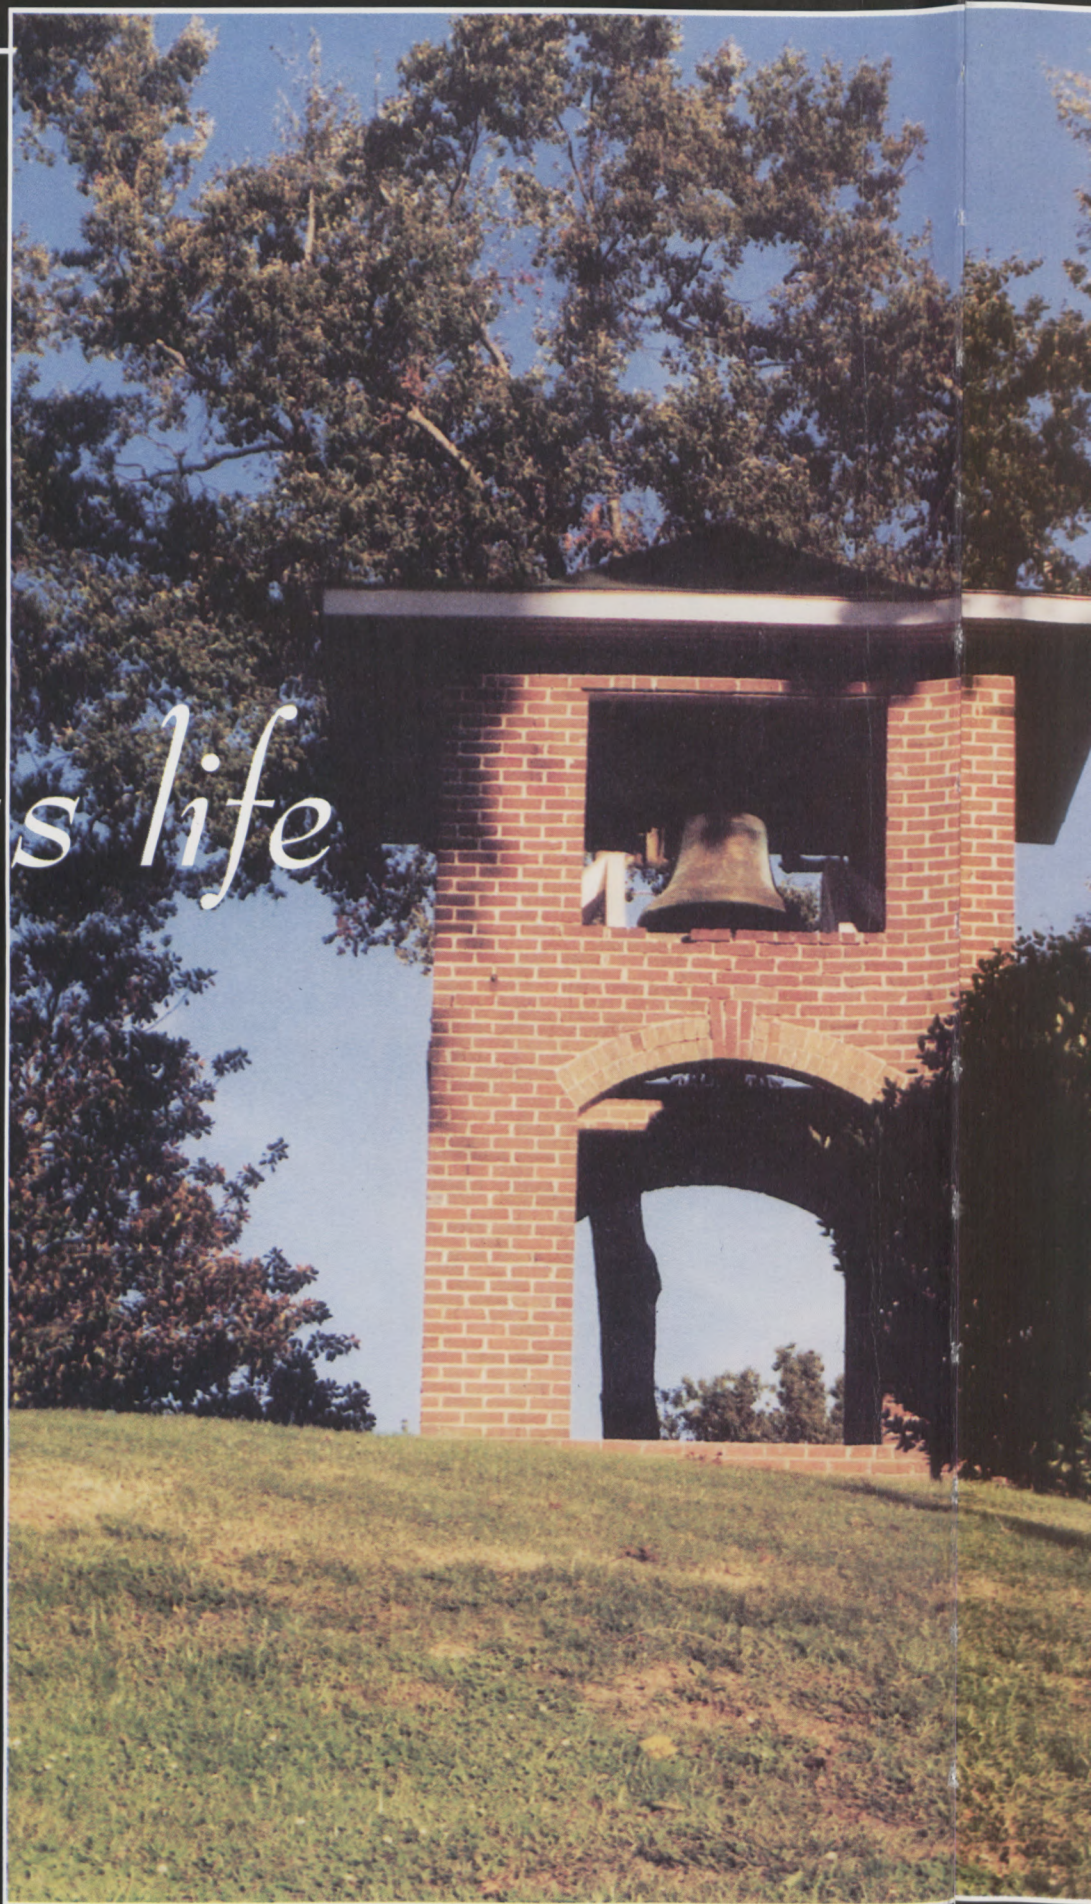

The legacy of Mississippi College is a story told over the last 174 years of the people, places, communities, and relationships that have defined and guided this Christian institution. MC is much more than a location, yet the campus in Clinton, MS, is at the heart of what makes this school unique. It has been a place where dreams have been encouraged, where relationships have been built, where wisdom has been sought, and character has been formed. The classrooms, living areas and walkways around campus have been hallowed by the stories of those who have walked here and lived here. For well over a century, young women and men have come to MC and to Clinton to receive an education and to shape their lives; to become people of integrity and virtue. The stories these women and men have left behind are our legacy, just as the stories that we leave behind will become a part of the legacy for students in years to come. This year's Tribesman is dedicated to the purpose of acknowledging and documenting the traditions, heritage and stories that those who have come before us have left. This is done in hopes that we might be able to leave a richer legacy for those that follow us.

Today, campus life at MC is still about people and relationships. Students build bonds of friendship here that will last for the rest of their lives. The student body is active and involved in all areas of university life from classes to athletic events, to musical performances and religious activities. There is a spirit at MC that students may only experience once in their lives. It is a spirit of true community.

Dedication

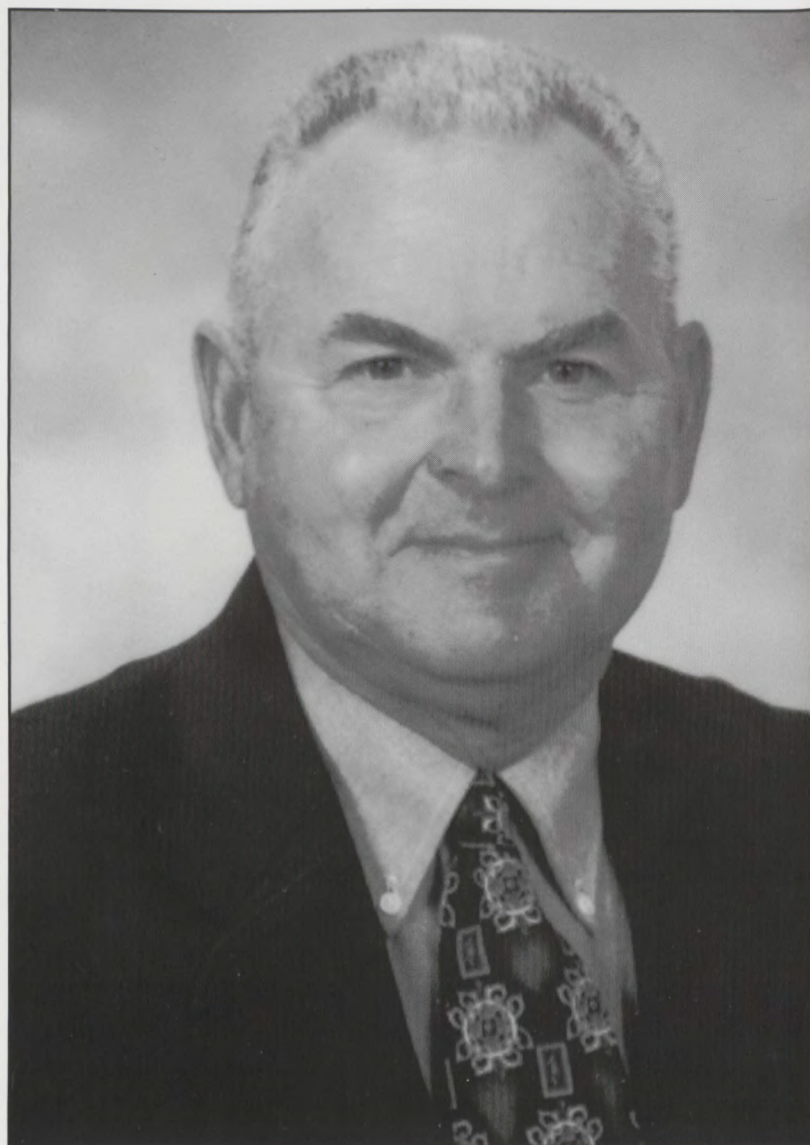

Mr. Sim Worley

Director of MC Physical Plant 1977-1998

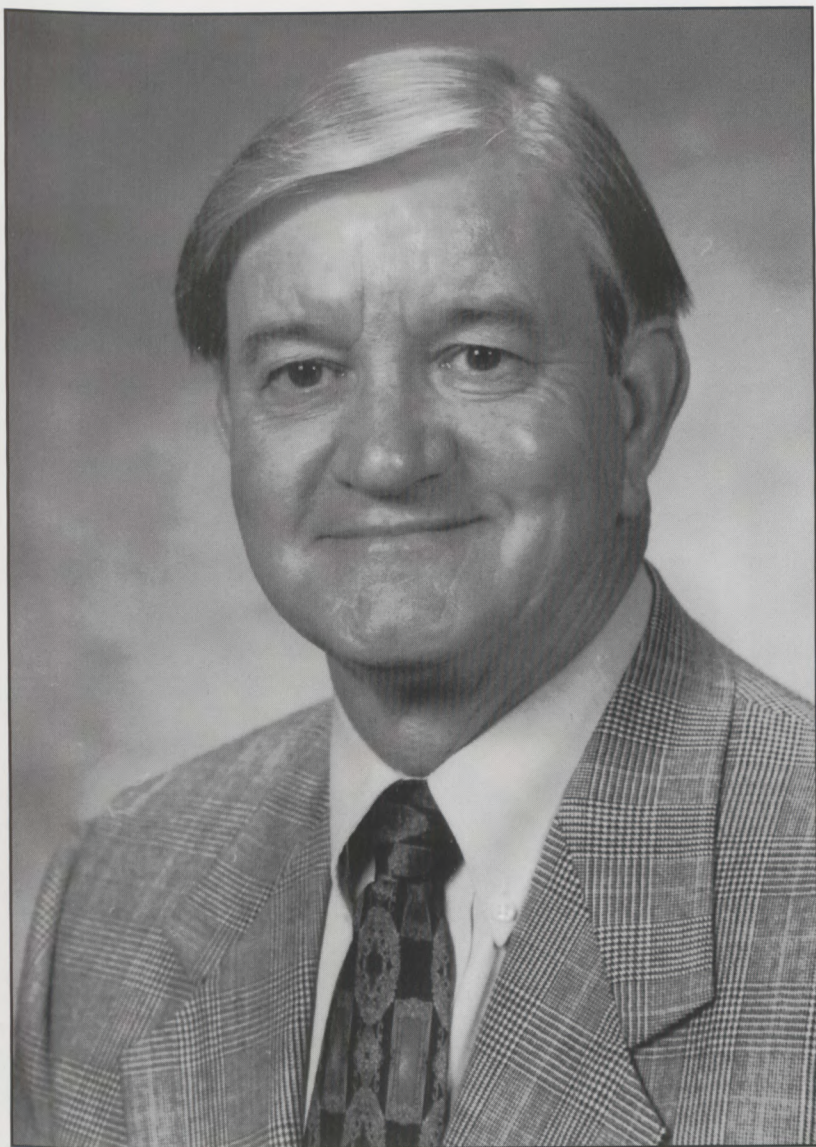

In keeping with this year's theme, the 2000 Tribesman staff wishes to dedicate this edition of the yearbook to a man who has long been a part of the legacy at Mississippi College. Mr. Sim Worley has served this school and its community for 21 years as director of the physical plant, in which time there have been many changes and improvements on campus and in facilities. The job of maintenance is often overlooked by students, but it is a job that must be done and must be done correctly. Mr. Worley, a 20-year veteran of the Marine Corps, ran the department with a level of professionalism that is not often seen. However, he did not only expect professionalism from those who worked under him but expected it of himself as well.

During his years at MC, he was very dedicated to the school and its programs. He desired to see that the facilities were maintained the best that they could be so that the school could also be its best. During his time of service at MC there were difficult years when he often had to operate on a very lean budget. However, he worked miraculously during those periods continuing to maintain the school's plant.

The students and alumni of MC owe a great debt of gratitude to this man who has dedicated so much of his life to providing a college environment where students can learn and grow without hindrance. The atmosphere that we all love at Mississippi College is a direct result of this man's dedication to his job. For that reason we dedicate the 2000 Tribesman to Mr. Sim Worley.

In Memorium

Dr. George Ayers

Associate Professor of Education 1994-1999;
B.S., Delta State University;
M.Ed., Ed.D., University of Mississippi

Dr. George Ayers dedicated his life to the cause of education. For 35 years he was involved in state education at all levels, serving as public school teacher, school system administrator and university professor. There are not many individuals in public school education today who have not been influenced by Dr. Ayers. He served on several state committees involved with public education and was a member of state and national teacher associations.

During the time that Dr. Ayers taught in the School of Education at Mississippi College, he came to be known as one of the sharpest and most prepared teachers on campus. One of his faculty peers once commented that Dr. Ayers taught every course from scratch. He did not rely on past teaching experiences, but prepared himself to teach students something new and exciting each year. He was a dedicated educator and an honorable man.

Dr. Ayers was a man with a heart for education and a mind of excellence. For this reason, the 2000 Tribesman wishes to remember his lifetime and his occupation as we look back at the legacy of Mississippi College.

Spirit of MC

The spirit of Mississippi College resides in its student body. MC is a place where students come to develop themselves, and grow in maturity and knowledge. MC fosters spiritual growth and provides a caring atmosphere that is conducive to education. Students are continually challenged to achieve new levels of academic success while becoming part of a larger community. Students get involved through venues such as athletics, campus organizations and extracurricular activities. Many enjoy community service as a way to grow and help others. However students get involved, they make many new friends in the process. Many of these relationships will last for a lifetime. This distinct combination creates the spirit of MC.

Campus Hangouts

The students of Mississippi College spend a great deal of their time on campus. However, not all of this time is spent in the classroom or laboratory. Day and night, students can be found enjoying their free time in their favorite spots around campus. For many, the all-purpose quality of the Quad makes it great for sports, studying and fun with friends. It is full of students anytime there is warm weather.

The Piazza is a relatively new addition to the campus, but it has quickly become a popular place for students. Covered tables give people a place to sit and study, or chat over a meal. Some areas of campus are meant for peace and quiet. The renovation of Alumni Hall provides students such a spot with a scenic view.

MC's campus is full of places where students can go to be with their friends, or to enjoy quiet and solitude.

Dedication to Mississippi College Spirit

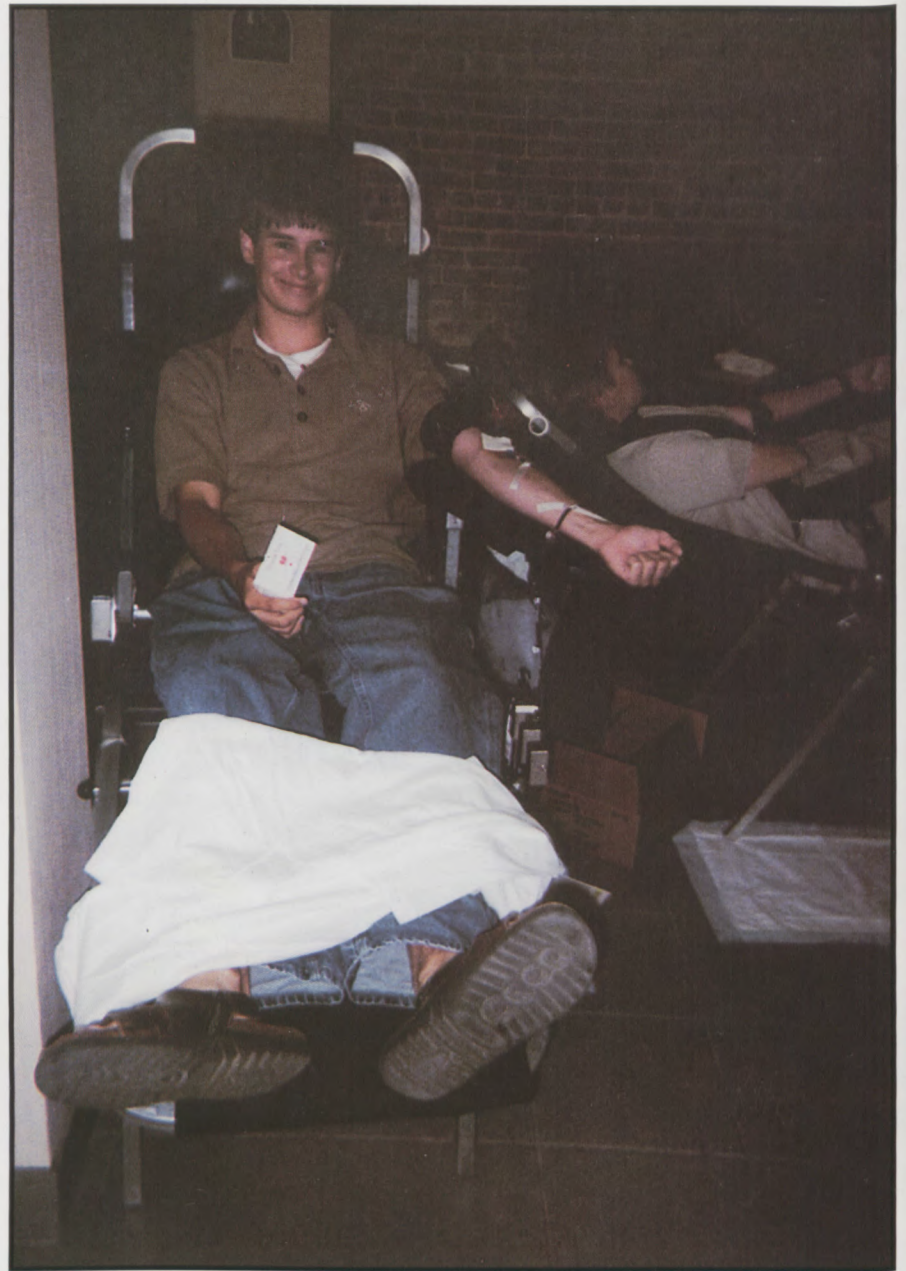

That vital spirit of principal which is a composite unit of the traditions of the past, the achievements of the present, and the hopes of the future, which has become beautiful because of the sacrifice and loyalty of its advocates, is this issue of the Tribesman dedicated with the hope that it may grow ever stronger with the passing of years.

Mississippi College's mission statement declares the school's strong commitment to service. One way that the college proves its dedication to this commitment is through the Community Service Center on campus. The center's primary goal is to connect students and faculty at MC with needs in the community. Some of the needs that are currently being met with the center's help are needs at community nursing homes, the Stew Pot Community Center, the UMC Children's Hospital, Gateway Rescue Mission, and the MS Reads tutoring program.

Service

Students Helping Others...and Themselves

Tribes and service clubs also involve members in different service projects throughout the year. Some of these organizations may adopt one particular project, like Nenamoosha has done with Shoebox Ministries. There are many opportunities for students to serve on and off campus. Some students serve through their own church congregations in different areas of need. The Baptist Student Union also coordinates various activities which get MC students involved in the community. BSU Vice President of Community Ministry David Dykes says, "So many people need love and understanding. BSU's community outreach programs allow students to share Christ's love with the people of this world in a lot of different ways."

What's in a Name?

For the past 80 years, students at Mississippi College have been referred to as "Choctaws." The story of how we acquired this name is one that is quite entertaining. The following information was provided to the Tribesman by Dr. Charles E. Martin, Vice President of Academic Affairs, Emeritus.

Prior to 1920, MC athletic teams called themselves the "Mississippi Collegians," or the "Gold and Blue." However, it was widely believed that MC could adopt a more suitable name. Consequently, a contest was arranged to choose a new team name. Suggestions were sought, and the top four that emerged were "Dutchies" (for Dr. "Dutchy" Provine), "Warriors," "Yellow Jack-ets," and "Choctaws."

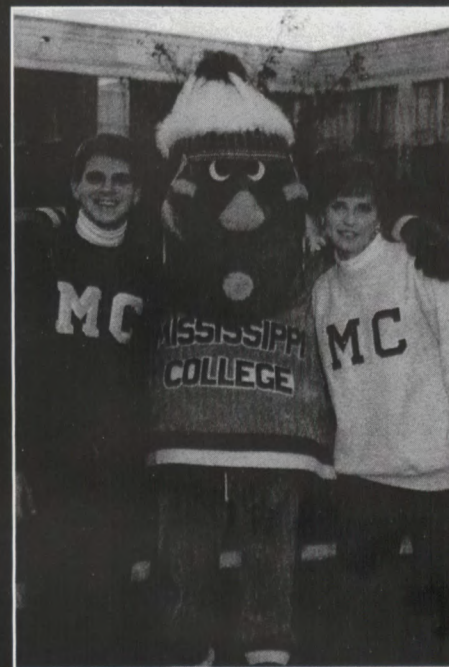

At a special student assembly, a speaker was designated to advocate each of the four choices. One speaker, supporting the "Choctaws", told the crowd that "Dutchies" would not be a suitable name, partly because Dr. Provine did not particularly like the nickname, and nobody called him that to his face. He said "Warriors" could apply to anybody and suggested nothing about Mississippi College. Georgia Tech was already using the name "Yellow Jackets," and besides, yellow jackets are mean little critters that sting you and run. He also referred to a recent hard-fought victory over Ouachita on a rain-drenched field covered with mud and water. He said yellow jackets would have drowned on a field like that, but Choctaw Indians would have loved the water and typically are excellent swimmers. They also were reputed to be swift on dry land, courageous in battle, and had been Mississippi's largest and strongest tribe. Furthermore, the College is located in what was Choctaw territory, and the old Indian trail that became the Natchez Trace passed through the campus. A vote was taken and "Choctaws" won easily.

Since the naming of the Choctaws, Mississippi College students have found many ways to express their Choctaw spirit. For example, "Choctaw Day" has been celebrated in the past. On this day, it was a tradition for members of the freshman class to dress up as Choctaws for the first home football game of the season. However, this tradition is currently only a part of the MC legacy.

Foreign Programs

Mississippi College offers several opportunities for students to enrich their understanding of other cultures and themselves by studying abroad. These programs give students a deeper look into what life is like in other areas of the world. The experiences these students have in other countries will teach them lessons that will help them throughout their lives.

One unique opportunity that students at Mississippi College have is the London Semester Program. Each January, around thirty MC students leave to spend their Spring semester in London, England. They study the arts and languages under British and American professors. They are also able to visit many historical places they have only read about in the past.

Another favorite program is the Salzburg Semester. Students participating attend Salzburg College where most classes are conducted in English. Host families house MC students and help them adjust to the different culture.

Third Floor Ratliff

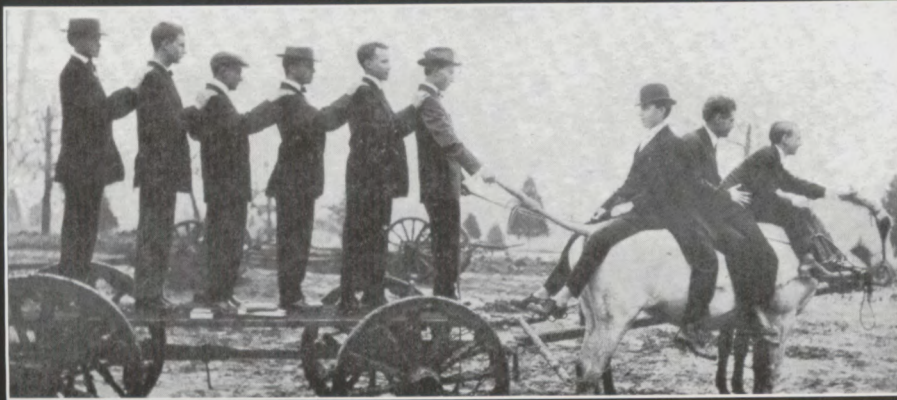

This exquisite territory; so many people yearn and strive to live on; is ONLY accomplished by so few in the many years this land has existed. The men in this picture are the hope that America has been searching for. As Overlord of this enchanted area, I ONLY hear people across the campus of Mississippi College speak in awe and praise of these fine and brilliant men from 3rd Ratliff. The years as Overlord have taken their toll; I, Overlord Rat, resign my Overlordship to the next Overlord, that ONLY the Lady herself, 3rd Ratliff, will know and choose this unique and graceful human being. The chant that has echoed across the campus of Mississippi College for many years, is as powerful today as it was in the old days, "3rd Ratliff, The Legend, LIVES!!"

Signa Phi Nothing is an honorary fraternity composed exclusively of the elite intelligentsia who lavishly exist on the second level of that plush resort, Whittington Towers, which faces scenic Highway 80. As its title indicates, this organization has no purpose whatsoever, no purpose except that of pleasure, that is. These followers of Epicurus come from all walks of life - some from the Texas badlands, some from unexplored areas of Tennessee and some from the Far...Far East. Others come from the Future.

Homecoming Activities

The 1999 Homecoming Week activities included many time-honored traditions as well as several new additions. The homecoming pep rally and cheering contest were held on Wednesday night. Open dorms in the men's and women's residence halls were also a part of the week's festivities. Four men's clubs and five tribes participated in Follies. The skits presented by each organization's pledges always draw a large crowd, and this year was no exception. After Follies the SGA hosted its breakfast in the Piazza.

Other not-so-traditional homecoming activities included a band, The Pates, performing in the Piazza and free laundry in the residence halls for twenty-four hours. Overall, the week was an eventful and memorable time for everyone involved.

Homecoming 1999

Homecoming day this year included activities for students as well as alumni. There were many events planned for all day.

Most clubs and tribes hosted brunches for current students and graduates visiting the campus. The MC Homecoming parade began its procession through Clinton at 2:00 p.m. Floats from various organizations at Mississippi College were featured in the parade. A large crowd, which included many alumni, cheered on the team. During half-time the presentation of the homecoming court occurred. Dr. Todd and 1998 Homecoming Queen Sara Rogers crowned Kim Yarbrough.

The Choctaws suffered a heart-wrenching defeat by McMurray University with a score of 27-28. After the game, the homecoming celebration was held at the Mississippi Agricultural Museum featuring The Sons of Soul.

There is no shortage of activities for students to be involved in at Mississippi College. For just about every interest and every need, students may find a club or organization that matches it. From community service to academic interests, organizations provide an outlet on campus for students to meet and interact with other students who share the same interests.

Some students who excel academically in specific areas each year are afforded the opportunity to join national honor societies that provide excellent resources for developing future contacts and preparation for graduate study and the business world.

There are also a great number of service organizations and tribes on campus. Each year a good number of men and women join these organizations after participating in Rush to determine whether or not they are interested in the club. These organizations provide social activities throughout the year to get their members involved, such as formals, informals, swaps, and service projects.

Religious organizations provide a place and a way for students on campus to express their individual religious devotions and beliefs. These clubs allow students to gather for worship and for praise throughout the week as well as interact with other students who are committed to their religious faith. The BSU is one of the largest organizations on campus; every student is considered a member and is encouraged to be involved with its ministries and service opportunities.

Whatever the interest, there is an organization somewhere on campus for every student to be involved in. The challenge at MC is not getting involved, but figuring out how to balance all the opportunities of involvement.

Student Government

Each Mississippi College student is part of the Student Government Association. Officers of the SGA are elected each spring semester for the following year by the student body at large. The SGA consists of the officers, the Senate, the House of Representatives, the Judicial Council, the Campus Activities Board, and the Men's and Women's Affairs Boards. Many campus activities are coordinated by the SGA each year, such as Open Dorms, I Love America Day, and various Homecoming Activities. MC students are able to have input into many of the changes and exciting things that have been occurring on campus by participating in the SGA.

The Senate is one of the best voices for the students of MC. Together with the newly-formed House of Representatives, the Senate works with administration to make improvements in a variety of areas. This year the Senate has worked to improve security, residence hall life, and parking. The Legislative side of student government will continue to work as long as students take pride in their college. MC students have a reason to be proud, and they are proud of their college and the legacy of which every student is a part.

Like the Senate, the House of Representatives consists of students elected by the student body. Representatives are determined by the classes, teams, organizations, and residence halls that are represented in the House. Any recommendations that are voted upon and passed by the House go to the Senate for consideration. This year's House of Representatives has worked closely with the Senate and administration to effect many changes as the House begins to take its place in the Mississippi College Legacy.

The Campus Activities Board was formed by the student body in the spring semester of 1999. The Board consists of the chairman, four elected members (one from each class), and two appointed members. In its first year of existence, the CAB planned, organized, and implemented several ideas for campus activities. Some of these were the big events of the year, such as Welcome Week, Midnight Madness, and Spring Fever Week. The CAB also worked hand-in-hand with the rest of the SGA to organize concerts and movie nights. In only one year, the CAB has contributed much to the MC Legacy.

The Judicial Council of the Student Government Association consists of the Chief Justice and six Associate Justices. The Council's duties are to interpret the SGA Constitution, recommend disciplinary action for students who have brought discredit upon themselves or the college, and to hear appeals from the Men's and Women's Affairs Boards. The Judicial Council also hears appeals of traffic violation citations that have been issued by Campus Security.

MEN'S AFFAIRS BOARD: Josef Bayone; Bryant Shaw, Chairman; Burt Flanagan; Clay Leech.

The Men's Affairs Board consists of the chairman and the presidents of Cockcroft-Caldwell/Hitt-McCullough, Quick, Latimer-Webb, Hederman, and Whittington Halls. The MAB has the authority to issue penalties for conduct violations in the men's residence halls. At various times throughout the year, the MAB schedules activities in the residence halls, including the ever-popular Open Dorms.

WOMEN'S AFFAIRS BOARD: Row 1: Peggy Walker; Jennifer Robbins; Carey Lestelle, Chairman; Dana Neal. Row 2: Brooke Williams; Emily Ray; Liza Tomlinson; Mary Pritchett; Jill Meacham.

The Women's Affairs Board of the SGA consists of the chairman and the presidents of the East and West Towers, and Chrestman, Gunter, and Mary Nelson Halls. The WAB has the authority to issue penalties for conduct violations in the women's residence halls. Throughout the school year, the WAB schedules various activities in the residence halls, including Women's Open Dorms.

1999 - 2000 has been an outstanding year in athletics for Mississippi College.

Cheerleading was excellent this year, winning awards in August and then going on to place second in the Division II National Championship.

The football team had a solid year, going 6-4, and was led by a combination of seniors and underclassmen.

In soccer, the Lady Choctaws surprised many with a 11-6-1 record, and by contending for the ASC Eastern Division title. The men's team had a strong year, finishing with a 7-8-1 mark after playing well near the end of the season.

The cross country team had another championship season, with the Lady Chocs winning the division crown. The men's team was narrowly defeated for the crown but finished very strong.

Athletics

The volleyball team did not have a spectacular year, but it did improve upon its 1998 season. Despite their struggles, they always played competitively.

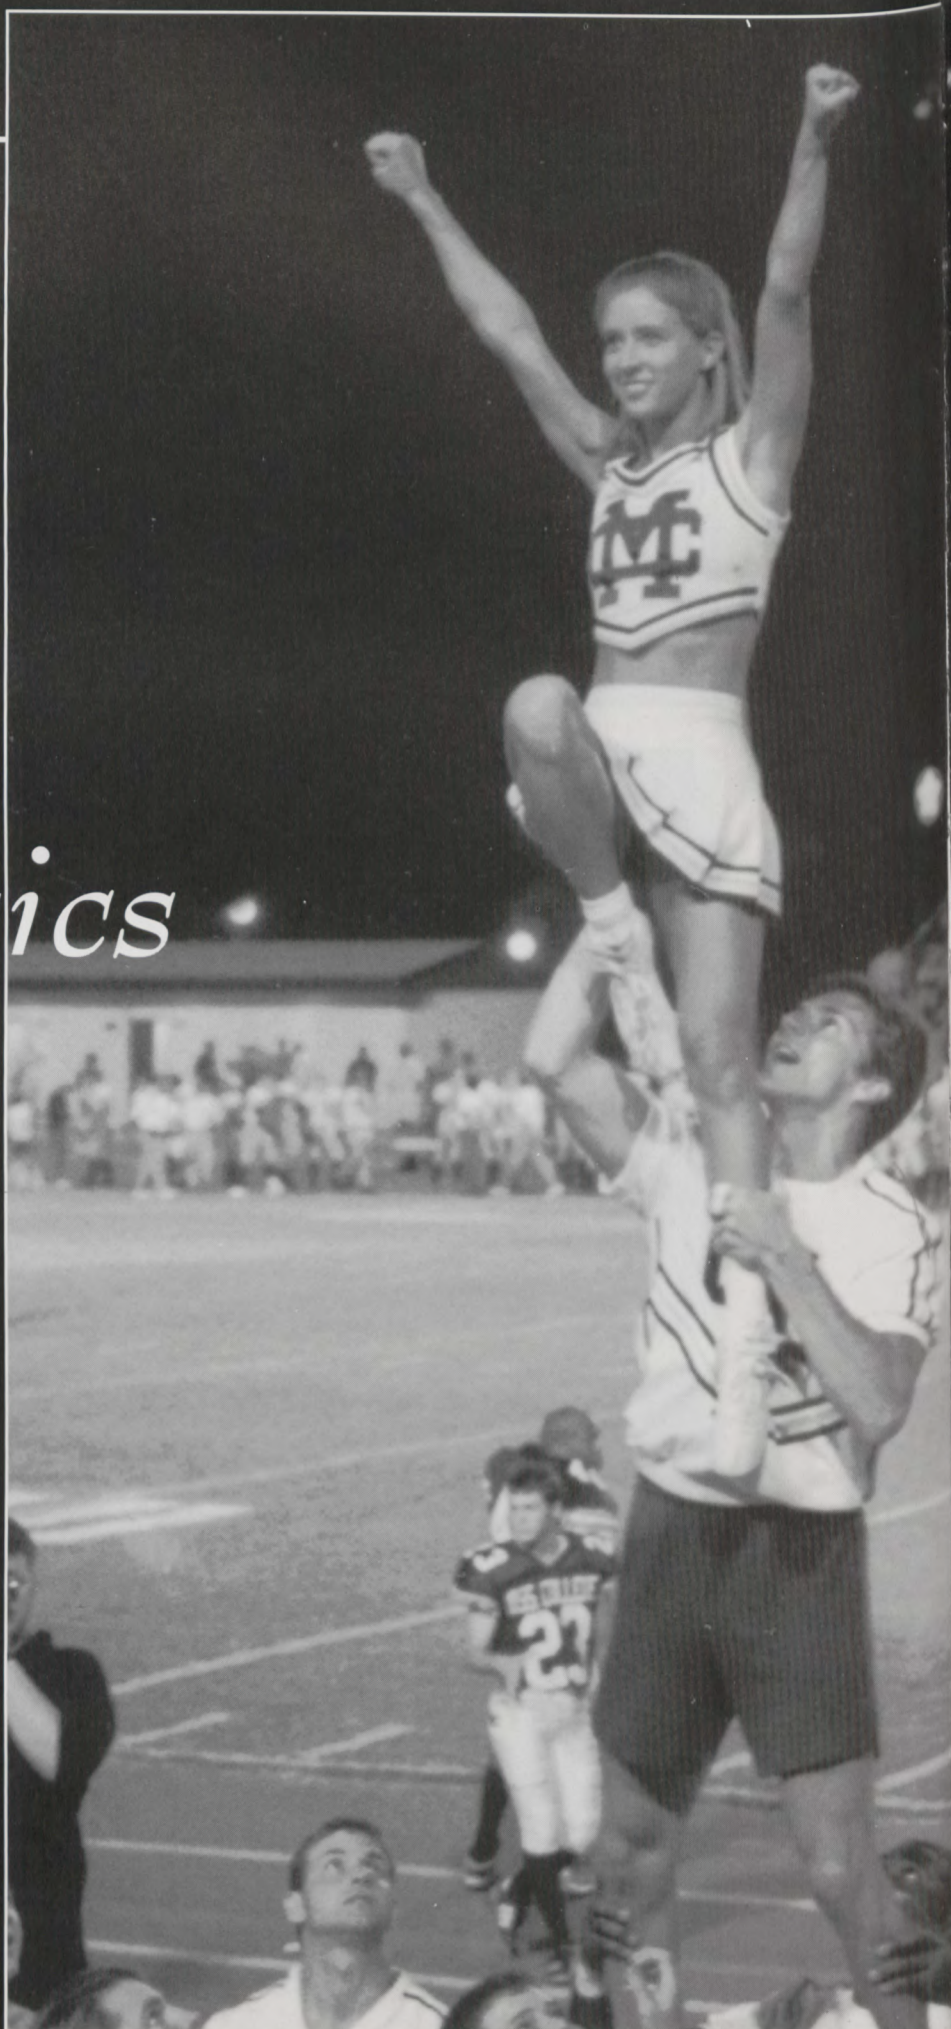

The men's basketball team looks to build upon the success of last year's 25 - win season and is picked to win the Eastern Division title. The women's basketball team also looks to build upon last year's success and is picked to finish second in the Eastern Division.

The softball team hopes to improve upon last year's record of 18-6.

The baseball team is strong and will have another outstanding season as well as the men's and women's tennis teams.

The Mississippi College athletic teams have a great year in 1999-2000 and will certainly continue to compete for titles and championships in the fast-approaching 21st century.

Sports History

(right) 1979 GSC Champions!

Beginnings

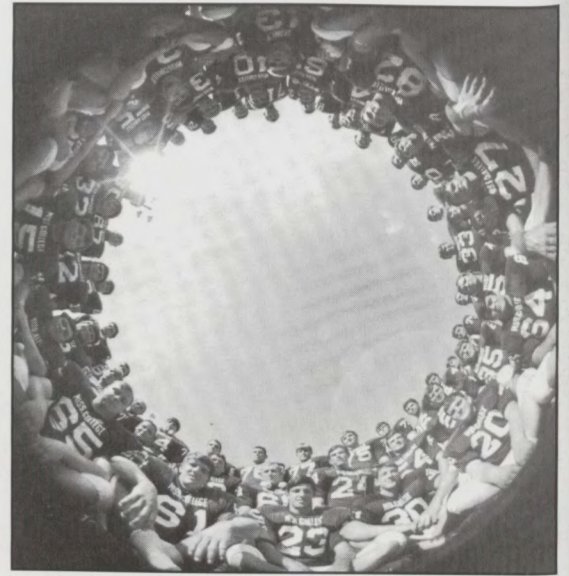

Mississippi College has encouraged student participation in athletics for over a hundred years. Athletics began with the creation of a "military school" in 1880, which encouraged the development of the "physical system." From that creation, intramural and then intercollegiate competition emerged. It wasn't until 1966 that MC gave athletic scholarships, so for most of MC history, athletics were played for pure fun. In 1997, MC completed the transition to NCAA Division III, where no athletic scholarships are given.

The first organized sport at Mississippi College was tennis. The tennis club began in 1889, and beat Ole Miss for the state championship in 1896 and 1897. Baseball was another of the earliest organized sports at MC, also beginning in the 1890's. By 1904, students were encouraged to join the Athletic Association by paying $1 per year, so that a baseball coach could be hired. By 1907, basketball was starting up, and track had begun. Golf began in the fall of 1909.

The football program began in 1907, when MC defeated Chamberlain-Hunt Academy 6-0. In the early years of football, the team suffered many losses, but when the football team was reformed after World War I, the football program was well established. In the early days, the team also played big schools such as Ole Miss, Mississippi A&M (State), Tulane, LSU, and Alabama.

Over the years, the sports programs have made some great achievements. Since the men's basketball team won the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association title in 1928 with a record of 24-1, the basketball team has won GSC and ASC championships. The cross country team won the Southern AAU titles in 1954 and 1955, and have recently been dominant in the ASC, winning several titles. Women's basketball has been competitive in the ASC recently, and their biggest year came in 1974, when they were ranked number two in the nation in the American Intercollegiate Association for Women. Cheerleading has been strong, winning seven national championships in the 80's and 90's. Though the track team doesn't exist today, in the 70's under Coach Joe Walker, they regularly competed for and won conference titles.

The most information available concerns the football program, which has had some great seasons. Under legendary coach Stanley Robinson in 1921, Edwin "Goat" Hale, led the team to a 7-2-1 record, including victories over Tulane, Birmingham Southern, Ole Miss, and Millsaps, and a tie with Florida. In 1927 under George Bohler, the football team went 8-0, the only undefeated season in MC's history. In 1989, the Choctaws won the Division II National Championship. Sadly for the football program, the title was taken away after NCAA sanctions in 1993. The football program is still going strong, winning the ASC title in 1997 with an 8-2 record under Coach Terry McMillan.

Great individuals

Coach Stanley Robinson spent 36 years at Mississippi College. As football coach, his lifetime record in 26 seasons was 144-94-11, earning him induction into the National Football Hall of Fame. He was a fine, dedicated baseball coach and athletic director. In his honor, the football stadium bears his name.

Edwin "Goat" Hale was an outstanding running back at Mississippi College. He got his nickname from how he played football – he charged like a goat. Coming off a war injury, he led the team to a great season in 1921. Hale made his mark in coaching, earning him induction into the National Football Hall of Fame. Hale coached at Mississippi College, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Millsaps, and Southern Miss.

Coach James Allen spent 20 years as the men's basketball coach at MC. During those years, he won 214 games, and brought exciting basketball to MC. Coach Allen ran a "run and shoot" offense, and his teams often ran the scores to high levels. In the 1959-60 season, Coach Allen's team set a NCAA record for points per game in a season, averaging 114.16 points per game. Over the Allen years, his team, nicknamed the Assassins, set nine NCAA team scoring records.

One of the best athletes to come out of the MC sports program was Larry Myricks. Myricks, a track star, was a four-time member of the United States Olympic Team and a five-time All-American. Myricks' fame came from his long jump, which earned him several world championships and also a bronze medal at the 1988 Olympics. His best jump of 28' 8 1/4" makes him the fourth-longest jumper in the world, behind Mike Powell, Bob Beamon, and Carl Lewis.

The greatest basketball athlete to come out of the MC program was probably Howard Sessums, who played two seasons at MC (1953-55), averaged around 32 points per game, and still holds the MC record for points over a lifetime. Tragically, Sessums was fated with an early death in a car accident in '63, and his jersey was later retired in his honor.

Rivalries

The Choctaws have had many rivalries over the years. The most famous is with Millsaps College. The Choctaws began playing Millsaps in 1920 in football and compiled a 24-9-6 record until 1959. The rivalry was intense before the football rivalry began, and in 1918, some Mississippi College students grew overzealous after a baseball win over the Majors, and left campus to parade in downtown Jackson. This was expressly prohibited by President Provine, and 65 students were expelled. Though the students were allowed to return the following year, many never did. Gradually, the rivalry became more intense and personal and the football rivalry was discontinued in 1959, though the Choctaws continued to play Millsaps in other sports. In 2000, the Choctaws and Majors will renew their football rivalry under a new spirit of goodwill.

The Choctaws also have had a strong rivalry with Delta State. The football squad has a lifetime record of 15-17-2 from a rivalry starting in 1935. The last game between the two schools was played in 1995, with Delta State keeping the coveted Heritage Bell trophy that was awarded to the winner of the MC-Delta State football game each year. Because Delta State won the last game in 1995, the Heritage Bell is in their possession today.

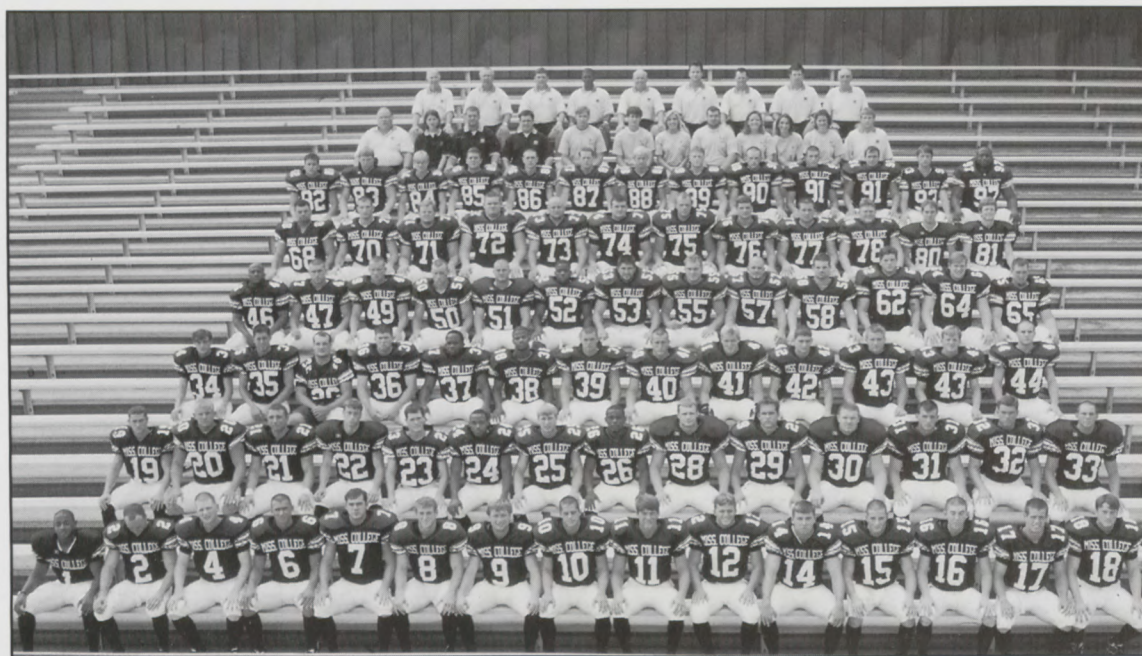

The Choctaws have also begun a new football rivalry. Though the Choctaws have played nearby Belhaven for years in other sports, the recent addition of a football team at Belhaven has allowed for a new football rivalry to begin. In 1999, MC played Belhaven for the first time and beat the Blazers 38-21. This rivalry will certainly become an important one in the coming years.

The Choctaws have also maintained a rivalry with the University of Mexico in football, playing them 11 times since 1929, and finishing with an 8-3 mark. The Choctaws won many of those games playing in Mexico City. In 1963, the game in Mexico City was cancelled due to the death of President Kennedy. A year earlier, in 1962, the Choctaws defeated the University of Mexico 22-6 before a crowd of 44,000 (which was capacity in 1962) at the Mississippi Veteran's Memorial Stadium in Jackson. The last game with the University of Mexico was a 56-0 MC win in 1975.

What's Next?

As we near the close of the 21st century, a bright future is in store for MC sports. The football and basketball squads continue to be competitive. The cheerleading program has reasserted itself as championship caliber. The cross country team has established itself as the best in the conference. The soccer teams have established themselves as solid, and the volleyball team has shown improvement. The softball program has shown tremendous ability, and the tennis program has consistently produced champions. The baseball program has a new beginning under a new head coach. The 21st century will undoubtedly become another championship-filled century for the Mississippi College Choctaws.

1999 Choctaw Football

Anchored by the American Southwest Conference's top-ranked scoring defense, the Choctaws finished the year with a respectable 6-4 record, with 3-4 in conference. The balanced offense was led by senior running back Jimmy Dottolo, second in the ASC in rushing with 1061 yards; flanker Kris Pickle, first in TD receptions with 12; and freshman quarterback Peyton Perret, third in passing yards per game with 248.6. Perret was also named the ASC Freshman of the Year. Defensively, senior defensive tackle Bryant Shaw had another big year, compiling an ASC-leading 20 tackles for loss on the year. For his efforts, Shaw garnered ASC Defensive Player of the Year and Co-Defensive Lineman of the Year honors. Senior cornerback Michael Meurrier also led the conference with 14 pass breakups, and led the team with 44 tackles. Senior defensive end David Dart led the team with 5.5 sacks on the year. Senior safety Jeremy Jones also made it in the record books with a 100-yard interception return against Austin College, which set a school record and tied the ASC record. With the loss of 10 starters, the Choctaws will look for more big contributions from underclassmen in 2000.

1999-2000 Choctaw Cheerleaders

The MC cheerleading squad had an outstanding year in competition in NCAA Division II. In August, the Choctaw Cheerleaders garnered three awards at a cheerleading clinic and competition at the University of Wisconsin, which included first in the Cheer category, first in the Fight Song category, and second in the Sideline category. After leading the Choctaw fans through the football season, the cheerleaders competed in the NCAA Division II National Championships in Orlando over Christmas break and finished second in the overall competition. The Choctaw Cheerleaders also were selected Most Collegiate in Division II. The cheerleaders had an incredible year, not only in getting the crowd involved in the games, but also in representing MC well on a national level. Look for the Choctaw Cheerleaders to again win a national title in 2000.

1999 Choctaw Cross Country

The women's cross country team performed up to expectations this season, dominating the conference and easily winning the ASC championship. The team was led by Sheila Hynum, Julie Engle and Amanda Hutcheson. Hynum, Hutcheson, and Engle each recorded the three fastest times of the year at Arkadelphia, respectively, with Hynum setting the MC 5K record with a time of 18:27. Hynum and Hutcheson also finished strong at the ASC championships placing first and second, and Engle also ran well, finishing sixth. The women's team returns every starter next season, so look for the Lady Choctaws to continue their dominance in 2000.

The men's team lost four out of the five starters from last year's team, but still nearly edged out McMurry for the ASC Championship. Led by Cliff Roy and David and Tom Hanes, the cross country team ran well this year. In Arkadelphia, Tom and David ran 25:00 and 25:08, respectively, which were the two fastest 8K times in the ASC in 1999. These finishes are also the two top finishes in the 8K in Mississippi College history. Tom Hanes finished first at the ASC championships. Cliff Roy also had a strong season, setting the fourth-fastest time in the ASC this season at Arkadelphia, and finishing third at the ASC championships. The men will also return every starter next season, so look for another competitive year.

1999 Lady Chocow Volleyball

The 1999 Lady Chocow Volleyball team played hard all year long, compiling a 3-21 record overall, and 1-9 in the ASC. The team was under a new coach this season, Brad Schut. Despite the disappointing record, the women always played with determination and to the best of their abilities. Even when the team wasn't winning, the Chocows continued to practice and play hard and always exhibit sportsmanship. The team's only senior was Second Team All-East Division OH/MB Carly Rivelli. The team will miss her leadership, but with such a young team gaining experience and a new coach next season, there is a bright future in store for Chocow volleyball.

1999 Choctaw Soccer

The Men's Soccer Team finished the 1999 season strong, winning five out of the last seven games, earning them a 7-8-1 mark overall and 4-3-1 mark in the American Southwest Conference. The team was led by the play of Michael Peters, an All-Conference forward, who was second in the league in points per game, averaging 2.5, and goals per game with 1.06. He was also eighth in the league in assists with 6, as well as providing three game-winning goals. He was named to the NSCAA Division III All-South Second Team. Goalkeeper Tripp Douglas also played strong, and finished number one in the league with 8.4 saves per game, with 126 overall saves on the year. He also added two shutouts. The team received contributions from All-East Division midfielder Daron Clark, who contributed six goals, two of which were game-winning, and an assist. Josh Grissom also added nine goals and three assists for the team. In soccer, statistics do not always tell the whole story, because in a team sport players are often called upon to do things that are not always recognized, such as closely marking a forward, cutting off passing lanes, and clearing the ball downfield. In what head coach Merle Ziegler called a "rebuilding" year, the 1999 Choctaws played hard, and many offense-minded players were called upon to play defense, which is often a difficult transition. Judging by the team's strong finish, the Choctaws have a bright future ahead as they continue to build upon the success of the soccer program at Mississippi College.

1999 Lady Choctaw Soccer Team

The 1999 Lady Chocs had an incredible season, winning nine of the last eleven regular season games and earning a semifinal appearance in the ASC Tournament. The women's team finished with an 11-6-1 overall record and a 5-3 record in the ASC. The women took a heartbreaking loss in the semifinals from Hardin-Simmons (3-2) but had such a great year that head coach Daryl Longabaugh was named ASC Coach of the Year. The women were outstanding throughout the year, especially at home, winning seven out of nine games. Several of the women had great individual seasons, including defensive player Courtney Shires and midfielder Chiali Lee who both made the All-Conference Team. The team was led in scoring by Megan Tubman who added ten goals and nine assists, and Stacey Billger with eight goals. Tubman was also eighth in the league in points per game with 1.71. Lee added eight goals and eight assists. Goalkeeper April Moss was outstanding this year, finishing with eight shutouts, the most in the conference, and 0.88 goals against average, which was third-best in the league. After an outstanding 1999 season, the Lady Choctaws hope to continue to build on their success in 2000.

2000 Choctaw Basketball

The 2000 Choctaws entered the season with championship hopes after an incredible season last year. With a record of 25-4 (9-1 in the ASC), the Chocs played well in the NCAA Tournament, advancing to the Sweet 16. The 2000 ASC Pre-season Poll picked the Choctaws, with six returning lettermen, to finish first in the East Division. All-Conference guard Rusty Chapman returns to lead the squad with hopes to have another great season despite losing several key players. Chapman had an outstanding season in 1998-99, averaging 16.3 points per game and earning him Co-Player of the Year honors. Curt Crain, the team leader in assists last season, will return as point guard. Travis Bernhard will also provide added depth in the backcourt. Junior college transfers Willie Poster, Cameron Cleveland, and Eddie Washington will help bolster the frontcourt in addition to high-flying center Derrick Davis and 6'-9" center Bo Lewis. Look for the Chocs' defense to be the key to another great season behind 1998-99 East Division Coach of the Year, Mike Jones.

2000 Lady Choctaw Basketball

The 2000 Lady Choctaws come into the season with high expectations. They return with nine letter winners and three starters from an 18-7 (8-2 in the ASC) team one year ago and were picked to finish second in the East in the ASC Preseason poll. Key returnees include talented guards LaShondra Farmer and Jennifer White. Farmer led the team with 84 assists last year, and White added 6.7 points per game. Centers Laura Coleman and Corey Fitzgerald provide strength in the middle. Coleman provided 9.4 points and 6.0 boards per game while Fitzgerald averaged 6.6 points and 4.3 rebounds per game. Junior college transfers Latoya Hopson and LaTarsha Sallie will also look to contribute and provide added depth. The Mississippi College defense will once again be a strength for this talented team.

2000 Chocotaw Baseball

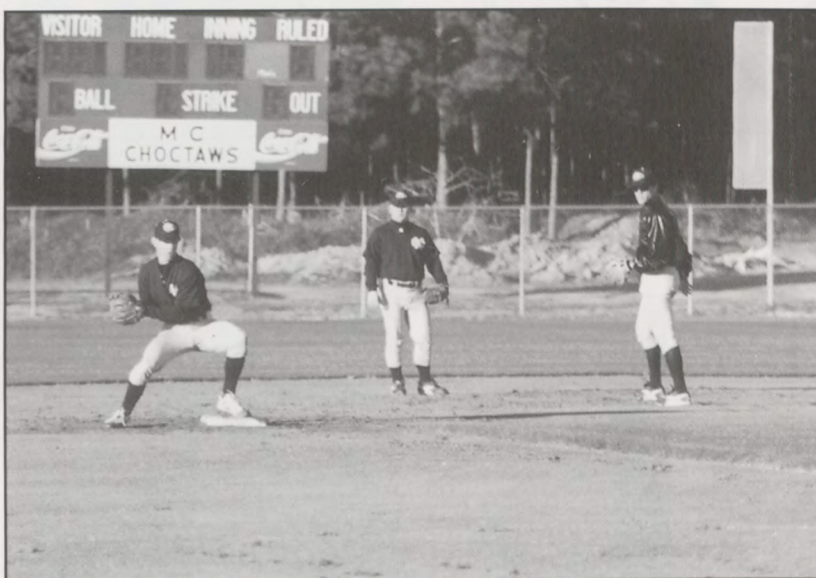

The 1999 baseball team finished with a respectable 22-16 record. As a team, they finished third in pitching with a 5.28 ERA, fourth in fielding but second to last in hitting in the ASC. First year head coach Lee Kuyrkendall, a former MC baseball player, hopes to improve on last season's accomplishments in 2000 as the Chocotaws were picked to finish second in the division in the 2000 pre-season poll. Key returnees include Rob Hembree who hit .407 in 1999 and All-East Division Second Team third baseman Matt Hill who stole 17 bases. On the mound, All-East Division Team member Josh Simpson, who finished with a 3.37 ERA and four complete games, leads the pitching staff. Jonathan Broome, who pitched 63 innings last season, will also have an impact. Anchored by strong pitching, the Chocotaws will undoubtedly flourish under the new coaching staff. The baseball team is picked to finish second in the ASC East in 2000.

2000 Lady Choctaw Softball

The softball team finished the 1999 season with an outstanding 18-6 record. The Choctaws led the ASC in most offensive categories including batting average, slugging percentage, on base percentage, runs batted in, and stolen bases. The Choctaws also led the conference in shutouts and were second in ERA, strikeouts and fielding percentage. Several key players return this year including ASC Player of the Year Hayley Blackwell who posted ten wins, a 2.18 ERA and 46 K's, each second in the ASC in 1999. Also returning is Renee (Brown) Sumlin who led the ASC with an astounding .481 batting average and 35 RBI's as well as in slugging, on base percentage and total bases. Amy Graham also had an outstanding year hitting .391, third in the ASC, and driving in twenty-two runs, which was second in the ASC. Graham and Sumlin were named Co-Newcomers of the Year. Bo McNair, who finished with a batting average in the Top 15, also returns. With the return of so many key players, look for the Lady Choctaws to contend for the ASC championship in 2000. They are under-ranked in the ASC East pre-season poll and picked to finish third in the division.

Coming off a stellar season in 1999, the men's tennis team looks to have another great season in 2000. Finishing 1999 with a 9-2 record, the Choctaws are ranked eleventh in the pre-season poll of the South Region in NCAA Division III. The Choctaws return ASC East Division Freshman Player of the Year Peter Lawson who finished ranked number one in singles in the division with a 12-1 record. Also returning are All-East Division players Jeffrey Collum and Brian Redfield who are ranked thirteenth in doubles in the pre-season poll in the South Region of Division III. 2000 Lady Choctaw Tennis

The 2000 women's tennis team had an outstanding year in 1999, finishing 10-1 overall. The women's team is ranked thirteenth in the pre-season poll of the South Region in NCAA Division II. Laura Baria, ranked twenty-fifth in the pre-season in the South, had an outstanding year last year, winning both ASC East Division Player of the Year and Freshman of the Year. Other key returnees include All-Conference member Jennifer Ellis and All-East Division member Mandy Deweese. Another positive note is that the mixed doubles team of Baria and Peter Lawson advanced to the finals in the 1999 ASC Fall Tournament. Coach David Boteler was named East Division Coach of the Year for 1999.

Alumni Pool

MC Alumni Pool

The MC Alumni Pool was originally constructed in 1925 and renovated in 1997. Alumni Pool was rated as the top college program in the United States in 1995 and 1996 by the United States Water Fitness Association. The pool is used for recreational activities such as swimming, running, water volleyball, water basketball, aquatic races, and scuba diving. In addition to recreational activities, the pool is also used by Mississippi College athletic teams for conditioning and resistance training. Pamela Smith, the aquatics supervisor, uses the pool to teach physical education classes such as water aerobics, aqua power step, and deep water running.

(above) The Alumni Pool also provides lifeguard training and certification. The flags above the pool represent the countries of all the students who have participated in the aquatics program.

There are many activities at Mississippi College for those students with an artistic flare. The school has a wonderful arts program as well as many groups and organizations that are devoted strictly to the practice and encouragement of the fine arts. MC also sponsors several publications which provide an outlet for students wishing to be involved with both literary and graphic arts.

The college's music department is an exciting way for students to sharpen their musical abilities and put them to regular use. The department forms several choral groups as well as instrumental concert groups and a marching band each year.

In the area of literary and graphic arts, MC produces an award winning newspaper, The Collegian, and literary magazine, The Arrowhead, as well as a yearbook, The Tribesman, each year. These publications provide opportunities for students to write, design, and publish, as well as practice such skills as photography and business management.

Arts

One other aspect of the arts program at MC is its theater area and concentration. Throughout the year the MC Players, a group of student actors, along with other interested students put on several plays for the school and community. Students may be involved with every aspect of the small theater including make-up, props, acting, and even directing.

The arts are alive and well at MC and have been for many years. The programs that are offered give students first-hand experience to help them deepen and strengthen their own artistic leanings and interests.

Each year at Mississippi College certain students are recognized and honored for their superior academic performance, campus involvement, and outstanding character. The university annually names two men and two women to the Hall of Fame and one individual is chosen to receive the prestigious Founder's Award. MC also annually nominates a group of students to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. This is a nationally recognized organization that seeks to honor college students for their involvement and achievements. All of these student awards are decided upon by a committee that seeks to honor students who have made a positive influence on MC during their time here. Recipients have contributed to the character and life of the college as a whole.

Another specific award that is given annually is the title of Mr. and Miss Mississippi College. These two students are nominated and chosen by the student body through an election process during the fall semester. The students who are chosen for this unique honor are very active in community life at the school and have had a positive influence on the student body at MC.

The honors section of the Tribesman is another way to honor and reward those students who have had such an impact on the university. It is with that purpose in mind that this section of each Tribesman is dedicated to the character and integrity of MC in hope that it will always remain an institution of truth and virtue.

Mississippi College Founder's Award

Evan Lenow

Having been active since first coming to the MC campus in 1996, Evan has been involved in the Baptist Student Union for four years. He served as Treasurer of his class, and was on the Dean's List as well as being in Mortar Board. He played Intramural Athletics and was in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Evan participated in the London Semester program in 1998 and was a member of Shawreth Men's Club. For two years, Evan has taken part in the MC Student Government Association, first as Attorney and then as Campus Activities Board Chairman. Perhaps one of the greatest achievements of this Memphis native was receiving the Byrd Memorial Preaching Award from the Department of Christian Studies and Philosophy in 1999. Evan was chosen to receive the prestigious Mississippi College Founder's Award because of the significant contributions he has made to student life at MC and because of the way he exemplifies the ideals of the founders and their successors in quality of living, in leadership, and in service.

Congratulations to the Class of 2000

*Living the Legacy
2000*

Mississippi College is a place unlike any other on earth. For students, it is a place they will remember for the rest of their days, because of the friendships they have formed and the relationships they have begun. It is often said that the people at MC are what make it such a special place. There is a warmth and a personability about this campus that is not easily found elsewhere.

MC is a small campus with a big heart.

People

Students and faculty share a commitment to truth and virtue, and a concern for each other. Whether in class or in the dormitories there is a sense of comraderie that is evident. It can truly be said that at MC you are more than just part of an institution; you are a member of a family - the Mississippi College family.

While MC enjoys the benefits of being a smaller school, it is also enriched by the diversity of its students and faculty from across the nation and around the world. Coming together to learn and to live, students encounter new ways of seeing and understanding the world. It is amazing to see how much learning occurs in the dorms or across the dinner table as students and teachers interact with each other.

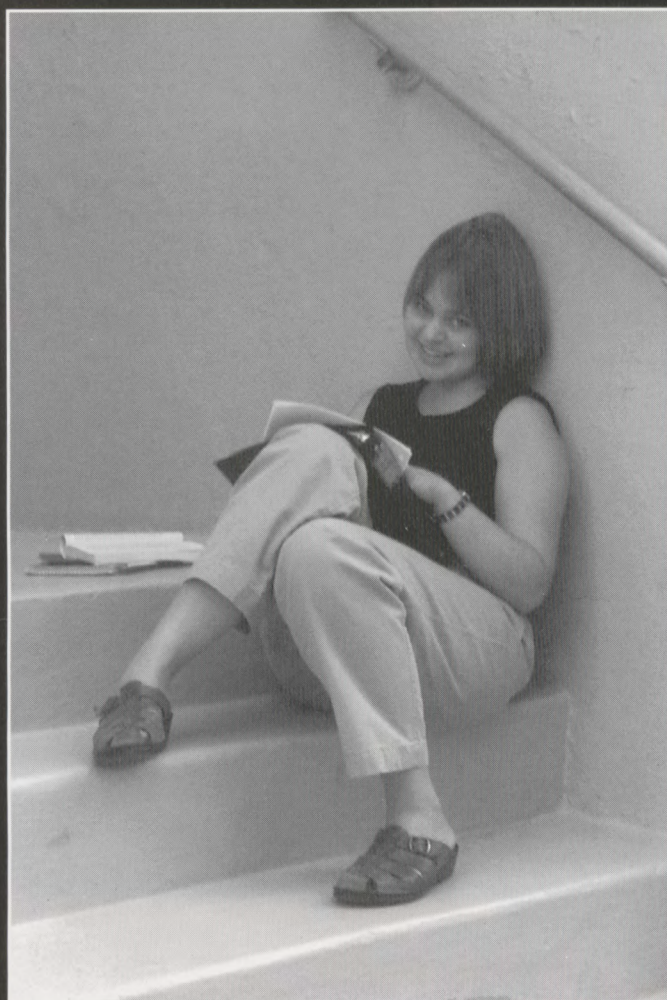

(right) Meghan Kennedy, Kathryn Anderson, Jennifer Sharpe, and Stacey Billger muscle up to show everyone who the boss is around the dormitory.

Howell W. Todd

President of the University

The preparation and compilation of a college yearbook is a big job, and the product is often not fully appreciated until several years later. Yearbooks record events and tell us something about ourselves, and they provide wonderful fodder for class reunions! I appreciate the work of the Tribesman staff, and especially the editor, Clay Polson, in taking on this task with a view toward making it a memory for us in years to come.

The 1999-2000 academic year has been a progressive one for Mississippi College...a student body second to none, a record number of students living on campus, a steady stream of honors and accolades for our students from all departments and schools, and a year filled with activities planned and provided by our SGA leadership. MC is truly a treasure, and for those who are seniors, we wish you well in your next step...the job market, additional studies, or perhaps a few months off. We look forward to your returning to visit with us and letting us share the joy of your accomplishments.

Best wishes,

The Legacy

If my fire is not large it is yet real, and there may be those who can light their candle at its flame.

- A. W. Tozer

I am not very good with words and to be completely honest I have dreaded having to write this editor's page all year long. It seems terribly arrogant to me to think that anything I could write might do justice to an entire year of our lives. I guess it is just as foolish to think that one book could adequately present the legacy and character of Mississippi College over the last 174 years, and yet that is exactly what we have attempted to do with this Tribesman. It has been an impossible task due to the numerous layers and complications of life itself. There is absolutely no way to get a grasp on the entirety of MC's history and heritage.

One could look at at any given year and the historic events that occurred within that year and learn some things yet still miss so much if they miss the individual lives that make up that history. Each of our lives represents a story, all its own, of the years we have lived and the things we have come through. Each of us will walk this way for a little while and will leave behind a legacy for our children and our families. These are probably the greatest stories that history will ever tell. Time will always march forward, and the world will surely look to the headlines of newspapers and magazines to give history its shape. However, you and I must look inside our own lives and the lives of the people around us to ask, "What is the legacy that we are leaving?"

The picture that our staff chose for the cover of this year's Tribesman is a panoramic picture of the MC class of 1927. When you first look at it you will most likely see a group of students, some 73 years ago, in front of a vastly different campus. However, if you look much closer, to the faces of those students, you will begin to see individuals with lives and histories of their own. That is where the real mystery is. That is where the legacy lives; in the lives of those individuals; and in each one of us. You might wish to ask them where they are from, where they are going or what their dreams and aspirations are. While it is too late for the class of 1927 to answer those questions, I challenge the students of today to turn the mirror upon themselves and ask the same questions.

We are entering into a new century and a new millennium, and over the next several decades our generation will most likely produce leaders in the fields of technology, medicine, education, politics, and religion. We will give shape and direction to our nation and the world in the 21st century, but more important than the accomplishments we achieve will be the people that we become. Our legacy will make itself known in the way that we treat each other and the way that we treat those with whom we come into contact. It will be seen in the causes that we give ourselves to. It will be evident in the way we choose to give to others, or the way that we choose to deny them. Younger generations will look at our actions and know what we truly believed in and what we desired from life. Today we must consciously decide what our legacy will be, and we must choose to live in such a way that our lives will not be forgotten. That is what living the legacy is all about.

It has been both a pleasure and a challenge this year to serve as Editor-in-Chief of the 2000 Tribesman. When the staff and I met late last August to discuss the theme and design of this year's Tribesman, we had in mind a book that would be radically different from anything put out at Mississippi College in the last 20 years and something very classic that would represent both the spirit and professional atmosphere of the school. I believe that we have accomplished our goals, and I am extremely proud to have been a part of the process. I must thank an incredible staff that has worked many hard hours to create such a wonderful book from such a vague idea. I believe that this Tribesman successfully captures and presents a very small portion of the great heritage and legacy that MC possesses.

Sincerely,

Clay Polson
2000 Tribesman Editor

The Book

Volume 94 of the Mississippi College Tribesman was printed by Herff Jones Publishing Company in Montgomery, Alabama.

(cover) The cover was conceived and designed by the Tribesman staff. The 1927 student body photograph was provided by Dean of Students, Tom Washburn. The book has a two-color lithograph cover with logo printed in HJ970 Silver ink.

(endsheets) Front and back endsheets are printed in black and white on Mist 07 paper. The front endsheet is a photograph of the first inhabitants of Jennings Hall, 1907. The back endsheet is a photograph of the student body and faculty in 1956.

(paper stock) All pages are printed on 80 pound Bordeaux Special paper.

(design) The entire book, including cover and endsheets, was designed by the Tribesman staff on a PC using Adobe PageMaker 6.0, Herff Jones PageMaster 6.0, Adobe Photoshop 4.0, and WordPerfect 6.0. The typefaces used were Bernhard Mod, and Shelley Volante.

(photography) Individual photos of the students were taken by Southern States Images, Ridgeland, MS. Individual photos of faculty, staff and organizations were taken by Public Relations Photographer Jesse Worley. Some sports photos were provided by Sports Information Director Pete Smith. All other photography was provided by staff photographers.

(correspondence) Questions regarding the Tribesman should be addressed to P.O. Box 4081, Clinton, MS 39058.
